Dear Friends:

As Labor Day passes, so does the warmth of summertime begin to leave. With a distinct chill in the morning air, we are reminded that the seasons, though subtle here in the Central Valley do change. As children return to school and our thoughts return to fall, looking toward Thanksgiving and Christmas and the wintertime, is again the time of our White Mass celebration. The White Mass represents the opportunity to fill our soles, our stomachs, and lastly our minds and all in one evening. Though, Larry will be unable to attend this year's White Mass, he is with us in spirit and continued support.

On October 10th, Thursday at 6:30, we will again gather at Our Lady of Fatima Church for our 12th White Mass. Our celebrant and homilist will be Father Trainer, Associate Pastor at Our Lady of Fatima Church. We, the members of the Steering committee cordially invite you to attend the mass and then immediately after will reconvene at the Sundial Restaurant for dinner. Our toastmaster will be Noel Concepcion and our dinner speaker will be Dr. James MacMillan who will be discussing his trip to Guatemala last year in an humanitarian effort to provide cardiothoracic surgical services to those in need. Please feel free to invite and bring any interested physicians who may not be on our invitation list to socialize and dine with colleagues and their spouses in what has traditionally always been a very enjoyable evening.

Won't you please join us for this year's White Mass celebration?
